Live to your greatest degree.

Enhance and elevate your overall health with Michael Phelps Sweaty GOAT Saunas by Master Spas®. These innovative infrared saunas deliver wavelengths that penetrate deeper than traditional saunas—warming your core temperature, increasing circulation, and promoting a more effective, restorative sweat. A sauna therapy routine can help with:

- Cardiovascular health
- Muscle and joint pain
- Inflammation
- Immunity
- Skin health
- Mental stress and fatigue
- Emotional well-being

“As someone who expects the best out of myself, a Sweaty GOAT Sauna is an invaluable way to recover from workouts and improve my overall health.”

– Michael Phelps, 23-Time Gold Medalist

Relax, Restore, and Recover

The Hybrid Heating System has three different types of infrared therapy—far, mid, and near infrared. These different heating elements are strategically placed so that your body is surrounded by infrared waves—reaching your back, shoulders, torso, legs, and feet for total coverage.

1 Certified Low EMF/ELF/ENC Carbon Heating Elements

Placed around the back, feet, and ankles. These carbon heating elements produce far infrared waves, which penetrate the deepest to allow for optimal muscle recovery and relaxation.

2 Certified Carbon Graphene Heating Elements

Placed behind the calves to help with lactic acid reduction and increase circulation. Our graphene heating elements produce mid infrared waves.

3 Certified Low EMF Alloy Heating Elements

Placed in front of the body to assist in recovery of chronic shin splints, knee and leg surgeries, and other lower extremity ailments. Our alloy heating elements produce near infrared waves.
